FROM all places of fashionable summer resort in this country, are heard loud complaints of the paucity of guests. The fact doubtless accords with the averment. In explanation it is alleged that fashion now exacts of her votaries a trip to Europe instead of a season at Newport, Saratoga, Niagara Falls, or the White Mountains. This hardly covers the whole case. For some years past the proprietors of hotels at our watering places have furnished abominable fare, and at the most extortionate rates. Visitors have become disgusted, and out of patience. They have resolved to change their base. If they must submit to such entertainment as they would not accept at their homes on any terms, and pay double prices therefor, they do not mean to be fleeced all the while by the same establishments. Hotels at watering places must do better, and at less rates.

THE recent declarations by Mr. COLFAX and other influential members of Congress to the effect that the votes of the Southern States would swell the Republican majority next year at the presidential election, may well be received as evidence that so many of the seceding States as comply with the conditions prescribed in the Reconstruction Acts will be re-admitted to all their former rights during the coming regular session of Congress. In some quarters there has been a pertinacious misrepresentation on this point. The purposes of an impracticable few have been put in place of the avowed intentions of the reasonable majority. It is time the real facts were understood.

THE Genius of Liberty, the Democratic organ of Fayette county, has been purchased by James F. Campbell, formerly foreman of the Post of this city, and F. S. Rock, of Greensburg. With Mr. Rock we have not the pleasure of an acquaintance, but can safely promise that under the management of Mr. Campbell, who is an energetic and thorough journalist and compositor, the paper will receive new life, and attain even a higher position among the journals of the State than it now occupies. We sincerely wish the new firm success.

THE Philadelphia Bulletin says that the "Republican Executive Committee of that city have adopted a set of supplementary rules, designed to correct abuses and to secure good nominations;" but it wisely adds that "unless the people take the matter in their own hands at the preliminary elections and secure honest delegates to the nominating conventions, all the rules in the world will fail to foil the machinations of corrupt wire-pullers."

IN PARIS a most censurable forgery was perpetrated in the Figaro of July 9, being a detailed account of the trial and execution of Maximilian. It purported to be copied from the Esperanza, of Queretaro, and to be forwarded from this country by the Atlantic cable. This forgery appeared in the Commercial of this city, yesterday morning, without an intimation of its real character.

A FEW nights since the conductor and driver on a street railway car in New York city, carried a lady passenger beyond her destination, and on reaching a secluded part of the road, put out the lights and attempted to outrage her person. Her cries brought the police, and the twin mates of infamy were arrested and held for trial.

PRIZE FIGHTING appears to be the prevailing sport of the season, judging from the number of "bouts" chronicled by our exchanges. There is one redeeming feature about the ring, however,—the roughs engaged as principals receive body beatings commensurate with their offence against society.

THERE would seem to be no good reason for the contemplated action of the President in assembling the military commanders of the Southern districts at Washington. They understand their duties, and do not flinch in the performance of them, which is all that can well be desired.

OF MR. ERRETT, the Philadelphia News, (Johnsonian,) says: "Mr. ERRETT is a gentleman of large experience, and would doubtless make an able legislator. We do not think he could be purchased, and that is saying a good deal for a man in these degenerate times."

THE New Orleans Crescent remarks that Jacob Barker's bank has been turned into a cake and soda shop, and a silver fountain dispenses coolness from the place where the silver headed banker stood and coolly swept the trusting people's money into his till.

IT is clear the President has no love for General Sheridan, and means to remove him from command at New Orleans. Perhaps, however, he seeks in this way to annoy Congress and the loyal part of the nation.

THE Republicans of Warren county have nominated JUNIAS R. CLARK for Assembly; those of Venango county, A. P. DUNCAN. In Potter county JOHN S. MANN has been re-nominated, subject to conference.

THE death of John J. Spear, a promising young journalist, lately attached to the New York World, is announced as having occurred yesterday.

—Victor Hugo was in Havre on July 3, having crossed the channel in the Southampton steamer. At 10 o'clock, says the Courier, he visited a cafe on the Place Napoleon III., in company with his faithful friend and disciple, Auguste Vacquerie. The great poet appears to enjoy excellent health; his age, however, is quite apparent, and his beard is nearly white. Victor Hugo proceeded on the same day of his arrival to Paris, where he witnessed the first performance of Hernani. Few persons who jostled the traveler attired in gray and wearing no decoration whatever, would have suspected that they were in such close proximity to the chief of the romantic school, of which he is still the brilliant embodiment. The poet's look is bright enough, though somewhat dreamy. His features bear very little resemblance to Hugo's carte de visite, the resemblance of which to the original is warranted.

—Recently a Milwaukee police officer was detailed to take an insane man to an asylum. The man went along quietly until the end of the journey was reached, when, instead of being delivered to the officers of the asylum, he very quietly delivered the astonished officer, who, before he had an opportunity for an explanation, found himself locked up in a cell, and was told that a straight jacket awaited him if he made any demonstrations. It was some time before the officer could get his story believed and exchange places with the lunatic, who went off boasting of his skill in outwitting his keeper.

—Among the rumors prevalent in Utah is one that Brigham Young has promised to abolish polygamy as soon as the Union is reconstructed. It will be curious if the burial of one of the "twin relics of "barbarism" proves the signal for the relinquishment of the other.

Gossip for the Ladies—Social, Fashionable, Matrimonial and Otherwise.

AMERICAN PRINCESSES.

The Hartford Courant gives some readable gossip on this subject: "American Princesses are not so rare as is generally supposed. Quite a number of the fair daughters of Uncle Sam wear 'that sweet aspect' which Shakspeare tells us is a princely characteristic. The eldest son of the great Murat married on the 30th of July, 1826, while residing in this country, the beautiful Caroline Dudley, a grand-niece of George Washington. Her husband died in 1847, but the Princess Murat is still living. The wife of the living Prince Lucien Murat—the head of his house—was Caroline Georgina Fraser, an American lady, who was born on the 13th of April, 1810, and married the Prince on the 10th of August, 1831, during his residence in this country. The sons and daughters of the Prince and Princess Murat, with one exception, were all born in this country. The Murats pay great attention to such of their American relatives and acquaintances as visit them in Paris. Then there is the Princess de Noer, who four years ago was plain Miss Mary Esther Lee, daughter of David Lee, a wealthy citizen of New York. On the 3d of November, 1864, she married Prince Frederick, of Schleswig-Holstein-Sonderburg-Augustenburg, who three days after the wedding was created Prince de Noer by the Emperor of Austria. Less than a year afterwards, on the 2d of July, 1865, the Prince de Noer died, while on a voyage of pleasure at Byrut, Syria.

"The widowed Princess resides, we believe, in Vienna. By her marriage she became the aunt of that Prince Christian of Schleswig-Holstein, who recently wedded the Princess Helena, Queen Victoria's third daughter. Another late instance of an American lady becoming a Princess is that of the Princess Salm Salm. Her husband, Prince Felix Salm Salm, was a rather wild and adventurous member of the great Austrian house of Salm Salm, who came to this country at the outbreak of the rebellion, offered his services to the Federal Government, and rose to the rank of Brigadier General. He married Agnes LeClerq, the daughter of a Colonel LeClerq, of our volunteer service. It is this Princess Salm Salm who lately made such strenuous efforts to save the life of Maximilian, the Prince, after the close of our civil war, having joined the Mexican Imperial army. Her acts in this connection will entitle her to the gratitude of Francis Joseph, and both she and her husband will doubtless take a high position upon their arrival in Vienna, among the titled members of the Austrian court circles. We say nothing of the venerable Madame Bonaparte, of Baltimore, who, if she had her rights, would be styled Princess. As for Duchesses, and Countesses, and Baronesses, there are any number of American women who have attained through marriage these minor noble titles."

HOW LADIES SHOULD DEFEND THEMSELVES.

A woman writes through the press to advise her sex to carry revolvers to protect themselves from the attacks of ruffians, as she considers that our laws and society make very inadequate provisions for their protection. If women do not possess revolvers, and cannot get them, she advises every woman to carry about with her a box of ground red pepper and throw a handful into the face and eyes of anyone who may seem disposed to make an attack. We have little faith that the arming of women would make them any freer from insult and outrage than they are now; but of the two methods of defence mentioned we should say the pepper would be decidedly the most effectual. This method of defence reminds us of a like one used by a well-known police officer in our city some years since. He scarcely ever looked to his revolver or bludgeon for protection. He always carried conveniently at hand in his pocket a quantity of snuff. The free use of this in the face and eyes of the prisoner always effectually squelched any attempt of violence on his part. And while this weapon achieved all necessary purposes, it did not peril the life or limb of the prisoner, and thus saved the officer from much of the censure that is visited upon policemen, whether deserved or not.

A SEASIDE EXPERIENCE.

Miles O'Reilly is at one of the seacoast watering places, and relates a little of his experience in these terms:

This morning I had a bath with a young Nereid, who swam like a duck, and is the luckiest of ducks in every way—even though she would not let me finish a song which she challenged me to write. The way of it was this—but first let me give the only two existing stanzas of my great projected poem, which is to be entitled

"AFTER THE BATH."

Her skin is fresh, and cold and pink,
But warm and red the lips I press,
And all her beauty seems to shrink
Compacter in her clinging dress,
While o'er her shoulders to her hip,
O'er swelling bust and far adown,
In trailing gold the tresses drip
Which form at night her braided crown.

No more her eyes in languor swim,
But flash with gay, coquettish strife;
And every pulse, and every limb
Is thrilling into riant life;
Her cheek hath caught a ruddier stain,
And her small feet in sand that sink,
Are marble-white, with many a vein
Down to the almond-nails of pink.

"THE LADY OF CHECKERS."

Among the habitues of the Paris cafes concerts are some singular characters. The observed of all observers is a rather pretty young woman, who, for a year past, has spent every afternoon and evening at the Alhambra, where she drinks a number of glasses of beer, smokes some cigarettes, and plays checkers with the genuine ardor of an admirer of the game. The waiters and the customers of the place treat her with great respect. Her history is quite romantic. Several years ago she was a poor actress, travelling with one of the provincial companies. One day the son of a wealthy old Marquis saw her and fell in love with her. Being a very honorable young man, he told his parents he would marry her. The Marquis and his wife were in dismay. "What! A relative of the Montmorency family—the scion of one of the oldest houses in France—should marry such a woman! Impossible!" The father of the young man, to reassure his wife, said it was a flame that would pass, and, besides, the young man was not yet twenty-five years old, and could not marry, therefore, without obtaining the consent of his parents and those of the young actress. When the son would not desist from his purpose, the father told him he could not marry the actress with his consent; and finally he prevailed on the young man to go abroad for a couple of years. But so intense was his love that he died in Africa of a broken heart, before six months had elapsed. On his death bed he bequeathed all his own property, amounting to upwards of thirty thousand francs, to the actress. His parents, however, went to law to contest the validity of the will. Though the grounds on which they brought suit was very weak, the young actress consented readily to an offer they made to her, to pay her a life rent of 800 francs a month. She said if she recovered the whole amount she would be too rich, and riches brought cares in their wake. Eight hundred francs a month were abundantly enough for her. Thereupon she went to Paris, rented a nice little house, and being a passionate lover of the game of checkers, spent every day many hours in playing at the Alhambra. The waiters call her "The lady of checkers."

A NOVEL ELECTION.

The Easton (Md.) Star gives an account of a large picnic held in a grove near Trappe, in that county, on the 4th of July, and adds:

"The great feature of the day was an election, at ten cents a vote, to determine the prettiest and most popular lady of the district, to whom a splendid fruit cake was awarded, the proceeds of the election to go to the Trappe band. Over 3,000 votes were cast, thus netting the band about $300. The principal candidates were Miss Welch, Miss Caulk and Miss Orendorf. Up to within a minute of closing the polls Miss Caulk was several hundred votes ahead, and her admirers were confident of success; but a friend of Miss Welch kept his ballot back to the last, paid $100 and gave her a thousand votes, which secured her the victory by some six hundred plurality, amid the plaudits of her friends. This is a novel way of determining the prettiest girl in the neighborhood."

—Dr. Pontes, in Paris, made a study about the origin of rickets, and found that the fault is in mothers not fulfilling their sacred obligations of nursing their infants with all the milk they can produce. This is the only food which agrees with the digestive organs of children during the first months of their existence, and life is often impossible when it is not given, or when the supply is in deficient quantities; and the ignorance of this fact is the chief cause of the enormous mortality during the first year of infantile life. If milk is given in such quantity as to keep the child just alive, it either dies later or rickets are developed, of which the sole cause is recognized to be premature weaning.

—The fillibustering Mexican appeals made in Richmond are said to have been a complete failure. A call for a meeting on the Capitol Square brought out only a few nurses with babies. The Virginia people have had too much war at home to be desirous to travel to Mexico in search of it.

NEW YORK, July 23, 1867.

THE SUPREME COURT AND THE EXCISE BOARD.

Judge Leonard, of the Supreme Court, has granted a mandamus compelling the Excise Board to pay over to the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, the balance in excess of the necessary expenditures received from licenses for the sale of liquor. These moneys amount to nearly half a million dollars for the month ending May 25th.

THE ROBERTS FENIANS.

The Express says the statement recently published that the annual excursion of the fighting members of the Roberts wing of the Fenian organization, would come off on the 15th of August, is entirely devoid of foundation. No movement of hostile character will be attempted until after the forthcoming general congress of the Brotherhood, to be held at Cleveland early in next September.

CONFLICT OF AUTHORITY.

An unfortunate controversy has arisen between the Collector of the Port and the Quarantine Commissioner, whereby passengers arriving in New York suffer much inconvenience. The Collector has refused to grant permits for the discharge of passengers and baggage until a certificate of the Health Officer has been sent to the city, the steamer meanwhile lying in quarantine waters. Hitherto this permit has been granted in advance of the arrival of the steamer, so that if the vessel had a clear bill of health, her passengers could be landed without delay.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MEMPHIS, July 23.—The cholera is decreasing here at present. The Board of Health states that no cases have occurred in the vicinity where the Nicolson pavement is being laid.

Accounts from Kansas represent the disease as prevailing on plantations in the vicinity of Pine Bluff. At Helena one planter lost twenty-five hands last week.

The crop prospect in that State is very encouraging. A large amount of corn has been planted. General Pillow, whose plantation is near Helena, estimates his corn crop at two hundred thousand bushels. Fully two-thirds of the lands under cultivation this season has been planted in cereals.

Unfavorable Cotton Prospects.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, July 23.—Accounts of the crops continue to be unfavorable. The prospect for cotton is more favorable than for grain or sugar cane.

The Shreveport Southwestern newspaper reports that the worm had appeared in the cotton in Red River country, but says the prospects are good. Accounts from the entire State of Louisiana, parts of Mississippi, Alabama and Northeast Texas, state there has been too much rain and the cotton worm was appearing.

There was no rain here yesterday or today. This is the first time for six weeks we have had forty-eight hours of dry weather. Air very sultry; thermometer 96.

THE SURRATT TRIAL.

Further Rebutting Testimony.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 23, 1867.

The letter of Booth to Dr. Stewart, enclosing money, was admitted in evidence, by consent of the Court. The Court ordered attachments to issue for two conductors on the Northern Central Railroad, who refused to obey subpoenas.

Ezra B. Westfall, train master on the Philadelphia and Erie railroad, testified that he was at Williamsport on April 13th, 1865; two trains arrived that day from Elmira; the train leaving Elmira at eight o'clock arrived between twelve and two o'clock, and the extra train arrived later. A man came on the extra train, and was anxious to get through. I took him to be a rebel spy or government detective, and gave him little satisfaction about the moving of trains, as I thought it was none of his business how trains ran. I know the ferryman at Williamsport; it was between twelve and two o'clock when the man came in on the extra train. I had a conversation with the ferryman at six o'clock that evening; it is my opinion that the prisoner is the man who questioned me about the trains, but I cannot say so positively.

Dr. McMillan was recalled and testified that he had a quarrel with Rev. Mr. Boucher about some money which Boucher owed him, and, that he slapped Boucher's face.

Dr. John Erskine, of Waterloo, Canada, testified that McMillan's character for truth was perfectly good.

Ernest Racicot, residing in Sweetsburg, Canada, and Levi A. Perkins, residing in Potter, Canada, testified similarly.

Joseph W. Guppy, Assistant Superintendent of the New York and Erie Railroad, testified that the trains from Oswego reached Elmira at 11:20 P. M. of the 13th, and at 6:12 A. M., of the 14th of April, 1865.

Charles H. Blinn, recalled and testified that Hallohan was not the man who laid down and dropped the handkerchief which he picked up at Burlington on the night of April 17th.

C. T. Hobart was recalled and testified that Hallohan was not the man who wanted to pass in his train, and looked nothing like the man. Witness never received an offer of a bribe from Mr. Bradley, and the publication to that effect was utterly false. No one connected with the defense ever made a proposition to pay money for testimony.

Lewis J. Weichman testified that Hall had did not lie down in the depot at Burlington on the morning of the 20th; he did not tell me in Canada that his handkerchief was under his pillow at the hotel in Burlington.

Joseph Wells, residing at Elkton, Maryland, testified that Stephen F. Cameron's reputation was bad.

James S. Crawford, also living in Elkton, testified that Cameron's reputation was not that of a truth teller.

James T McCullough also testified that Cameron's reputation for truth was bad.

John Torbet testified that Cameron was considered half crazy; a man no one would believe his stories unless verified; witness would not believe him on oath unless corroborated; and several other witnesses testified similarly.

Michael McNamara testified that John Tippet's reputation for truth and veracity was good. Several witnesses gave evidence to the same effect.

Court adjourned till to-morrow.

FROM WASHINGTON.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 23, 1867.

DISTRICT COMMANDERS.

The President has under consideration the propriety of calling the five District Commanders to this city, that they may confer with each other and the Executive relative to the execution of the Reconstruction acts, and determine as near as may be upon uniform rules of action and practice.

DESTITUTION IN NORTH CAROLINA.

The report of General Miles, Assistant Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau of North Carolina, for June, speaks of poor white women and children, left widows and orphans, as counted by thousands and living on charity. There is no employment for them, and hundreds have gone into the fields and endeavored to earn enough to sustain life, but their feeble constitutions soon break down under the burning sun. If this class of people were in any of our manufacturing towns in New England they could be enabled to attain to a sphere of usefulness and enjoy all the comforts of life, and at the same time give their children advantages of education. If employment would be guaranteed in any part of the country this Bureau would furnish them transportation, and they would gladly leave these scenes of want and sorrow.

MATTERS IN TEXAS.

General Griffin, Assistant Commissioner in Texas, under date of May 31st, says that the freedmen are working well, and the demand for labor is great, with wages high. The treatment of laborers by their employees is much better than usual. The report also states that in many counties there is very little lawlessness or violence, but there is still a large part of the State where murder is bold and unchecked. In these parts the life of a white man is worth but little, while the life of a freedman is worth nothing. General Griffin remarks that a very great number of planters, in seeing the eagerness of the freedmen for education, have offered to furnish school buildings, and have applied for teachers.

YELLOW FEVER EPIDEMIC IN TEXAS.

Information has reached the Treasury Department from the special agent at Galveston, dated July 16th, that owing to the prevalence of the yellow fever at Indianola, which has assumed an epidemic form, all commerce with that port has been suspended, and no mails have been received from there since the 5th inst.

REGISTRATION IN NORTH CAROLINA.

The Wilmington Board of Registration in this state is composed generally of obscure persons. The time for the commencement of the registration is not fixed.

The Military Commission to try three citizens of Robeson county, on a charge of assaulting officers of the freedmen's Bureau, convened this morning.

The weather is warm. Accounts concerning the grain crops are more encouraging. The reports from the cotton crop are not so favorable.

THE ASSASSINATION COMMITTEE.

The Committee of the House of Representatives to investigate the assassination of President Lincoln request all persons having any knowledge thereof to forward the same to the Chairman, General Butler. It is stated that under the provisions of the House resolution the evidence so furnished shall not be used against the persons furnishing it on any trial.

IMPEACHMENT INVESTIGATION CLOSED.

The Judiciary Committee closed the impeachment investigation this morning.

DEPARTURE OF SECRETARY SEWARD.

Secretary Seward left for Auburn to-day.

GOV. FLANDERS IN THE CITY.

Governor Flanders, of Louisiana, has arrived here.

FROM ST. LOUIS.

A Base Ball Match—A New Jerseyman Found Dead—An Absconding Express Agent—Indian Advices.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, July 23.—A base ball match between the Nationals and Empires, to day, closed at the end of the sixth innings, to enable the Nationals to reach a train for Chicago, where they play a match with the Excelsiors to-morrow afternoon. The score stood—Nationals, 53; Empires, 26. The Nationals complimented the Empires very highly, and pronounce two of its members the best players in the West.

Augustus H. Rockwell, of Newark, New Jersey, was found dead on the sidewalk on the corner of Fourth and Pine streets, early this morning. It is supposed that he fell from a window in his room.

John W. Matthews, agent of the United States Express Company, at Weston, Missouri, absconded last week with from eight to ten thousand dollars belonging to the Company. Matthews was a member of the firm of Matthews & Co., grocers which made an assignment about a month ago.

The officers of the steamer McGill, just from the Upper Missouri, say that a band of one hundred and fifty Sioux Indians attacked part of the Rhee tribe, above Fort Stephenson, killing three and running off twenty-five ponies. On the same night the same Indians stampeded a number of government horses and wounded one soldier at Fort Stephenson.

FROM GEORGIA.

Registration in Augusta—The Cotton Crop.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

AUGUSTA, GA., July 23.—The Board of Registration in the Third Territorial District, orders employers to notify employees of the presence of the Board for registration. In any instance where the order will not be enforced by the employers, they will be punished to the extent of the law by the Military Commission.

AUGUSTA, July 23.—The weather is favorable for the crops. Accounts from the coast are favorable to the Sea Island cotton.

SAVANNAH, July 23.—The cotton crops have been somewhat damaged by the late heavy rains, causing a shedding of balls, and by worms. The prospects are still fair for a two-thirds crop. The rye crop is reported badly damaged.

New Jersey State Convention.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

TRENTON, July 23.—At the Republican State Convention to day all the counties were represented. Courtland Parker presided. Addresses, taking strong grounds in favor of impartial suffrage, and resolutions to the same effect were passed. Messrs. Parker, Frelinghuysen, Wilson, Nye, Cattell and others addressed the Convention. In the evening a mass meeting was held.

Yellow Fever Raging.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, July 23.—The Indianola Bulletin of the 18th inst., reports the yellow fever on the increase, and that there are cases in every house in town. It makes an appeal for assistance of money and hospital supplies. The fever has also broken out in Lavacca.

Suicide of a Japanese Student.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., July 23.—Ashiurarat, one of the Japanese students at Munson College, committed suicide, by hanging, on Sunday evening. Mental depression, amounting almost to insanity, was the cause of the act.

MOWING MACHINE MATCH.

Trial of Machines on the South Side—Difficulty in Securing Judges—A Start at Last—Unsatisfactory Trial.

By invitation we were present, on Tuesday, at the mowing machine match in South Fayette township, on the South side, arising out of a challenge issued by Messrs. John Hall & Co., of this city, manufacturers of the "Union Mower." The challenge was made through the newspapers and was accepted by Messrs. J. Knox, representative of several machines, Beckham & Long, agents for the Buckeye, and White Brothers, agents for the Kirby Machine. Leaving the city at nine o'clock, we reached the "Woodville Inn" before eleven, and left there shortly after twelve for the scene of the match.

THE CONTESTING GROUND

Was on the farm of Mr. William McKeown, in South Fayette township, about a mile and a half due west of Woodville, but several miles further by the road we traveled. A more inaccessible, or less inviting spot, the challenging party would not have selected. It is the popular idea that on such occasions large crowds will assemble, and hence render the result more important; but it seemed to us that in making the arrangements for this match, a large crowd was not desired. There were assembled not more than one hundred persons, the largest proportion directly interested in machines entered for the match. Among those present were, Gen. James S. Negley, Hon. John E. Parke, Col. James A. Gibson, Robert Woods, Esq., Col. George S. Hays, Major F. C. Negley, Col. Russell Errett, Rody Patterson, Col. J. T. F. Wright, of the Agriculturist, and other prominent citizens. Lunch partaken of, the crowd proceeded to a field adjoining the one in which the mowing was to take place.

MACHINES ENTERED.

The mowing machines entered were: "Union," by John Hall & Co; "Excelsior" and "World," by J. Knox; "Buckeye, Sr.," "Champion," and "Russell," by Beckham & Long. The "Kirby" machine was entered by Messrs. White Brothers, but owing to the impossibility of getting a team, its representatives were unable to enter the contest.

MAKING ARRANGEMENTS.

Thus there were six machines, quite a sufficient number for all purposes, as it turned out, owing to the annoying delay in making preliminary arrangements. We had heard that mowing machine contests, as arranged heretofore, were nothing more than farces, or at least very unsatisfactory affairs, and this, our first experience, demonstrated the fact to our complete satisfaction.

The selection of judges being required, the representatives of the different machines entered endeavored to agree upon a certain number of gentlemen present to decide in the contest. It was only an endeavor, and from what we heard said, and the movements we observed, the conclusion was irresistible that nothing short of a committee, a majority of whom were favorable to a certain machine, would be acceptable to certain parties. Finally a committee was appointed to select three judges, farmers, and what further took place in the conversational way still further demonstrated the unfairness which seemed to pervade the arrangements. A committee would be selected, and announced, and objection made on the score that one or more of them were either agents or interested in some way in a certain machine. This objection would be sustained, as also that on account of relationship. While Mr. Knox and others of the machine agents did not wish to dictate to the Committee, they said they would not submit to a Committee they knew would decide against them. The selecting Committee, which consisted of nine persons, save two or three, were biased one way or the other, and hence endeavored to select such judges as they felt sure in advance would decide a certain way. Three men were chosen, and proceedings were about to be commenced, when the withdrawal of the "Excelsior" and "World" was threatened, two of the three, cousins, being partial to another machine. The persons consented to be judges, yet when asked the question, after objection was made to them, they admitted their partiality. Tiring of the controversy, which seemed likely to result in no match coming off, we sought protection from the broiling sun, heartily wishing the affair might end in a failure, since, so far, our jaunt to the country had been otherwise than agreeable, and our more speedy return to office duties might be facilitated.

AN AGREEMENT AT LAST.

At length it was announced that Goodman Y Coulter, Samuel McKeown, Jr., and Joseph Little had proved acceptable to all parties, and they proceeded to complete arrangements for the match. All the machines had been exercising more or less for a couple of hours in a field, the grass of which, we judged, was heavy enough, and the ground [illegible] to afford a [illegible] of their merits.

THE MATCH.

Ground having been staked off, and an equal amount assigned to each machine, they were directed to commence operating simultaneously, in the following order: No. 1, Buckeye; No. 2, Union; No. 3, Champion; No. 4, World; No. 5, Excelsior; No. 6, Russell. The sight was an interesting one, and it was indeed astonishing to witness what great improvements had been made in these sort of machines. The Buckeye, Champion and Union have the "front cut," while the others have the "rear cut," the Champion on the "hand" side. The noise or rattle of the machinery of the Union and Champion, as compared with the comparatively noiseless motion of the others, first attracted our attention. Speed it was given out was not required as a test, and hence the drivers devoted their attention mainly to good cutting. The individual who had charge of the Champion "went in" right briskly, putting his horses to the trot, and kept this up for a little while, for what purpose did not appear, unless farmers generally have more regard for horse flesh, and are satisfied with doing their work well with reasonable speed, [illegible] those present did not appreciate the demonstration. The ground assigned the different machines was uniform, and the test was a fair one. At its conclusion the judges concluded that all had done so well that they would make no report, but award equal credit to all. Subsequently, we understood, they gave the palm of superiority in cutting to three of the machines, but as to which three those were we have no positive information. As we have it, they were the Buckeye, Russell and World.

THE DRAUGHT TEST.

The machines were next tested as to their draught, by a dynamometer, a test, to our mind, of the most conjectural character. The judges selected to perform this service were Dr W. J. Gilmore, Alexander Speer and H. C. Dickenson. Following is the record of one of these:

Buckeye...	298 pounds;	4 feet	4 in.	cutter bar.
Union.....	294 "	"	"	"
Champion..	2[illegible]8 "	"	5	"
World.....	257 "	"	"	"
Excelsior.	[illegible] "	"	3	"
Russell...	257 "	"	"	"

Another gentleman, having fair opportunity for observing, made the following record:

Buckeye..........	290 pounds.
Union..........	400 "
Champion..........	350 "
World..........	290 "
Excelsior..........	325 "
Russell..........	275 "

The dynamometer used was arranged on the same principle as a spring balance, and the indications of the draught were taken seven times in a distance of about one hundred yards, the judges walking alongside the machine, noting the indications of the dynamometer, attached in some irregular sort of a fashion. How it is possible to determine the average draught of a mowing machine in this way, with any degree of correctness, we cannot imagine. There were those present who coincided with us in the opinion that this test amounts to nothing satisfactory, and farmers very naturally disregard it.

CONCERNING THE MACHINES,

We do not propose to give a description, and the trial of them, noted above, we need scarcely say, amounts to nothing in the way of demonstrating to the public which is the best. Those present judged for themselves, and one gentleman, in our hearing, announced his judgment in a practical way by giving Mr. Knox an order for an Excelsior. The Excelsior, while it is claimed to be as good as the best in the matter of mowing has an advantage over other machines which will not be disputed. It is designed as a reaper and mower, the attachment of the former having superseded the old style reaper, where another man, beside the driver, occupied a position on the machine and performed the office of raking. The dropper or reaper and harvesting attachment of the Excelsior gives it pre-eminence over other machines, and hence is most sought after, as combining two machines.

We are indebted for courtesies extended to us on this occasion by Captain John Hoskin, of Massillon, Ohio, a gentleman of rare attainments and considerable celebrity as a mechanic.

We took some further notes during the trial, which we may find convenient to use again, time pressing us at present.

The Mowing Match.

"A Spectator" hands us an article descriptive of the mowing match, from which we extract the following:

"While not wishing to detract from the true merits of any of the machines on trial, I cannot but say in justice to the proprietors, that the "Union Mower" as handled by Mr. Thomas Hall, won a great share of the praise and admiration of the farmers, for the manner in which its work was executed. It seemed to mow with ease to the horses and did not press them beyond their steady plow gait. Mr. Hall executed a very clever feat in cutting a swath with out one horse and without a neck yoke, thus subjecting it to a very severe test. In the absence of any award from the committee, the best evidence is the feeling of the farmers, which seemed to be very generally in this case as it was in days of yore, decidedly in favor of "The Union."

Waived a Hearing.

The defendants in the cases arising out of the Stafford and Brown difficulty, which occurred in Allegheny about ten days since, appeared before Alderman Strain to-day and gave bail for their appearance at Court, waiving a hearing before the Alderman. The facts in the case, so far as developed are as follows: Brown alleges that Stafford came to his house, abused his daughter, broke down his door, and assaulted him and his wife with a loaded pistol. Stafford alleges that he was assaulted by Brown and his son-in-law, and that one of them struck him with a poker. These are the statements of both parties. We do not know which is the correct one, but suppose the whole matter will be ventilated at the September Court.

The Truth of the Case.

In the public controversy that is now being waged by the representatives of the various Sewing Machines there is some danger of a departure from strict truth on the part of certain agents who seem determined to "make their point" at any cost. In regard to the statement made by the agent of the Howe Machine in his "card" of yesterday, the representative of the Wheeler & Wilson Company, would merely say that the public are abundantly able to discriminate between truth and falsity. The Wheeler & Wilson Company do not wish to detract from the honor conferred upon Elias Howe, Jr., the inventor, but in the language of Mr. Derby, whose letter we give below, they do say that the Howe Company are wrong in claiming the medal on machines.

The first notice from the Exposition came in the shape of a full list of premiums awarded in this country. In reference to Sewing Machines we had the following:

"Gold Medal to Wheeler & Wilson, New York, for Sewing Machines."

"Gold Medal to Elias Howe, Jr., Inventor of Sewing Machines."

A following telegram read as follows: "Wheeler & Wilson, New York. Highest premium Gold Medal for perfection in Sewing Machine. Elias Howe, Jr., awarded Gold Medal as Inventor—not for machine at all. The statement of the agent of the Howe Machine that the Wheeler and Wilson Company were awarded a Gold Medal for a simple button hole machine, is an evidence of his ignorance. The button hole arrangement is a merely improved attachment of the Superior Machine which carries the gold medal on its merits. Below we give the letter from Mr Derby:

"Mr. Derby, the United States Agent for the Paris Exposition, called here this morning, and says the Howe Company are wrong in claiming the medal on machine. But one gold medal was awarded to the sewing machine, and that was given to Wheeler & Wilson. The gold medal given to Mr. Howe has no reference to his Sewing Machine, and would have been given the same if he had not exhibited any machine. It is simply a personal honor as an inventor, and has no reference to the merit of his particular machine."

This is the substance of Mr. Derby's account of this matter, and is just what we knew before, but it is a confirmation of the truth of our first telegraph: "The only Gold Medal to Wheeler & Wilson for perfection in Sewing Machines."

A Few Words About Coffee.

We are unacquainted with the period of the introduction of coffee into Europe. Ranwolf is the first who speaks of coffee, in 1583. Prospero Alpini then came, and described the coffee tree in Egypt by the name of bun, bon or boun. His work appeared in 1592. In 1614 Bacon mentioned this Oriental beverage, and Meissner published a treatise of it in 1621. It was not, however, until toward the year 1654 that it began to be drank in Italy. The first cafes were first opened in London in 1655, and in Paris in 1669, a time at which a pound of coffee was worth forty crowns. It was principally Soliman Aga, the Ambassador from Turkey, who caused coffee to become fashionable in Paris. It penetrated into Sweden in the year 1674, where it was thought of use in scorbutic diseases. The first person who made trial of coffee with milk was Nieuhoff, the Dutch Ambassador in China, in imitation of tea with milk.

The physical effects of coffee are well known; it accelerates the circulation of the blood. The celebrated writers—such as Fontenelle and Voltaire—made constant use of it almost to an abuse. They were told it was slow poison; it was, indeed, slow for these learned men, who died, one at a hundred, and the other eighty-four years of age. However, at the present time, coffee is a beverage whose power over our intellectual or moral habits has, perhaps, never been calculated as it served since it has become general, and almost suppressed the drunkenness which disgraced our ancestors at the end of their grand repasts. Our friend Joseph Robinson, No. 20 Fifth street, at the old original tea store, has on hand a very superior stock of the finest qualities of coffee, and has already acquired a just reputation for its excellence. He likewise has a splendid assortment of the choicest of teas, which he offers for sale at the most reasonable prices. We can safely recommend our readers to make their purchases at Mr. Robinson's.

False Pretence.

James Dixon is a horse dealer and had a fine horse, which it appears had attracted the attention of B. F. Colbaugh, a horse fancier, who not having the "stamps" to invest in a horse, and having quite a hankering after this animal, he must of necessity divine some method to get the horse, other than the "cash system." Dixon alleges that he came to him to buy the horse, and represented to him that he owned property in the city of Allegheny, and that on this representation he sold him the horse on time for one hundred and fifty dollars, and [illegible] discovered that [illegible] the property in Allegheny, that it belonged to some other man. He therefore made information before Alderman McMasters against him, charging him with false pretence. He was arrested and held for a hearing.

Central Board of Education—Special Meeting.

The Central Board of Education met Tuesday evening, July 23, 1867.

Present—Messrs. Crawford, Getty, Lowe, McCook, Nobbs, O'Shane, Sergeant, Wilson, and Brush, President.

Bids for the erection of a building for the Colored School were opened and referred to the Committee on Building, with power to act.

Andrew B. Hayden was nominated and elected Collector for the Third ward.

On motion of Mr. Wilson, the Board proceeded to the election of a Principal of the Colored School, which resulted in the choice of Jacob S. Taylor.

On motion, Miss M. M. Ware was elected Assistant Teacher, and Mrs. Ellsbury, Janitress.

On motion, adjourned.

Horse Killed.

John Wells was charged before Alderman Robinson, of Allegheny city, on oath of Isaac Charles, proprietor of a livery stable, in this city, with abusing a horse that had been hired to him by the prosecutor, who alleges that on the 13th inst., the defendant came to his stable and procured a horse and buggy for the purpose of taking a ride. In the evening when the horse was brought back to the stable, it bore evident traces of abuse, and has from that time until yesterday, when it died, it had been unable to go out of the stable. The horse, it is alleged, was in good condition when the defendant took him from the stable, and its death is attributed to the abuse received while under his charge. Officer Sarber arrested the accused and he was held for a hearing.

Narrow Escape.

A singular accident occurred yesterday afternoon at the Atlas Works, 8th ward, by which Mr. John Chadwick came near losing his life. The large grindstone at which he was at work, burst with great force, the fragments flying in every direction, tearing out two sides of the building, prostrating and almost covering up Mr. Chadwick. When rescued from his perilous position, it was found that he was seriously injured. The explosion was heard at the distance of several squares, causing the men employed in the surrounding workshops to rush out to ascertain the cause. Dr. Brashear was immediately called in and gave him the necessary attention. It is to be hoped that his injuries will not prove fatal. Mr. Chadwick has a family and resides in Allegheny city.

The Stolen Horse.

In our issue of yesterday we stated that a horse had been stolen from near the Grant House, Allegheny city, the property of Mr. George W. McIntyre. After searching for his horse until a late hour, Mr. McIntyre went to the Mayor's office and gave information of his loss, which was the means of recovering the horse. It appears that James Dougherty had taken the horse without asking leave of any one. About twelve o'clock last night Lieut. Shafer, of the night police, got sight of him and starting in pursuit soon overtook him. He had been riding about the city all evening, and when arrested, manifested no desire to be obstructed in his pursuit of pleasure. He was taken in charge, however, and is now in the lock-up awaiting a hearing.

Coroner's Inquest.

Joseph Letzkus, the man who was injured on the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, a few days since, died yesterday morning at six o'clock. He had been removed from the Hospital on Monday evening to his brother's house, in Birmingham. It appears that he had been suffering from a mental derangement for some time, and that he left his room on Wednesday and was not again heard from by his friends until found in the Hospital. The Coroner was notified of his death, and summoned a jury who, after viewing the body, adjourned to meet at the Mayor's office in this city on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock.

Assault and Battery.

Henry Taylor was charged before Alderman Strain with committing an assault and battery on one John Wright. The parties had a difficulty about a wagon which one had purchased from the other, and the difficulty resulted in a fight. The prosecutor alleges that the defendant struck him with a stone on the side of the head and knocked him down, and struck him several times with a stone after he was down. A warrant was issued yesterday, when Taylor was arrested and held in five hundred dollars for a hearing on Saturday.

Friendship Fire Company.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The Dispatch, on Monday, in noticing the Allegheny Fire Alarm Telegraph, for some reason, best known to the reporter, failed to notice the Friendship Fire Company as among the number that reported when the alarm was given. Why they were omitted, we are unable to say, as the other papers all have the report correct.

FRIENDSHIP.

Allegheny City, July 23, 1867.

Serious Injury.—A little daughter of Mr. John Koessler, baker and confectioner, No. 40 Market street, received a fall yesterday which in all probability will prove fatal. The unfortunate little one was on a balcony, at her father's house, from which she fell to the pavement, a distance of fifteen feet, striking her head first, crushing the skull in a frightful manner. She was carried into the house, and medical aid summoned immediately. Her recovery is altogether improbable.

The Union Depot Cutting Affray.

We have published at different times several cases, having their origin in the Union Depot cutting affray, which occurred on the 7th inst., in a sleeping car, between James Lunger and J. D. Johnson. The first information was made against Johnson, charging him with assault and battery with intent to kill, and he in return made information against Lunger and a man named Holmes, charging them with aggravated assault and battery. A hearing was had in the latter case yesterday, when the whole matter was amicably adjusted and the parties discharged. It appears to have been nothing more than a drunken soree, in which both parties were too drunk to be accountable for what they did. Johnson, who was unable to procure bail, has been to jail for several days, and he appeared to be highly delighted with the arrangements that were made. The knife used on the occasion was a very small pocket knife, and not such an instrument as a man would select to cut another with if he had murder in his heart.

A "Woman in Black."

A female, residing in the Sixth ward, young and handsome, had reason to suspect that her lover, a Market street clerk, had "learned to love another." She determined to satisfy herself on this point, and set about to establish a system of espionage, not only upon the movements of her clerk, but those of a certain young girl, "whose name shall here be nameless," whom she had come to regard as a formidable rival. In order the better to carry out her plans, she concluded to disguise herself, which she did by a liberal application of lampblack to her face and hands, after which she resembled a well regulated negro wench. On her way down Fifth street yesterday, a policeman at the corner of Grant and Fifth streets, detected her disguise, arrested her and took her to the watch-house, where, after she had washed off the black—disclosing a handsome countenance—and told her story, she was permitted to go home.

An Age of Progress.

That this is an age of progress is a fact beyond a doubt, and it is clearly proven by the high state of perfection to which the manufacturing interests of our country has arrived, and especially the manufacture of boots and shoes. These articles are manufactured in the East at the present time in a style unsurpassed, and at prices far below anything we have heard of. To be fully satisfied of this fact it is only necessary to make a visit to the boot and Shoe establishment of Willrich & Harford, (successors to A. May) 100 Market street, corner of Fifth. These gentlemen have on hand a splendid assortment of boots and shoes of every description, which they are selling at prices unprecedentedly low.

They have a large stock of slightly damaged goods in which they offer great bargains. Call and see them.

We hear that through the influence of foreign book agents an effort is being made to remove the excellent and economical books now in use in the public schools of Allegheny city, and to substitute for them books of greater cost, without reference to their merit. We hope that the School Directors of our sister city will not make a change which will take money from the pockets of the people, unless it can be shown, in fair discussion, that such change is called for on account of the demerits of the present books, and the superiority of those proposed. The great portion of the people have been satisfied with the text books now in use, and see no reason, these dull times, in adopting more costly books with no additional advantage. The poor man's sixpence should be scrupulously economised now more than ever, although it should at no time, however prosperous, be wantonly taken from him.

Change of Agency.

NEW YORK, July 6, 1867.—We hereby notify the public of Pittsburgh and vicinity, that we have transferred the agency for the sale of our Pianos from Messrs. Hoffman, Hoene & Co., to Mr. C. C. Mellor, No. 81 Wood street. Mr. Mellor will furnish our pianos at the same price they are sold at our warehouse.

DECKER & BROS.

From the above the public will know that hereafter the Decker & Bro's., pianos are only to be found at C. C. Mellor's ware rooms. Persons desiring to purchase a first class Piano should not fail to examine the Deckers.

Dishonesty Elsewhere.—A man named H. E. Burdick, a farmer, living in the south part of Erie county, recently was arrested in Erie on a charge of adultery, but it is turned out that the woman was his wife. The hotel keeper and a special policeman tried to swindle him out of money, but the farmer would not be swindled, and recovered the amount of bail which he was forced to hand over at the time of his arrest. The policeman and landlord had divided the money, when the former was compelled to disgorge, and he had to [illegible] up the latter to [illegible].

Skiff & Gaylord's Minstrels.—Skiff & Gaylord's Minstrel Troupe will give the first of a series of entertainments at the Opera House, in this city, on Monday evening, the 29th inst. They are at present playing a successful engagement at the National Theatre, Washington, D. C., and we have every reason to believe, from the well known character of this troupe, that they will meet with abundant success here. They have with them a full troupe of "Jap onknees," who are said to excel the "Ring Kee Chee" and all the other "chees" in their wonderful feats.

Abusing a Horse.—Pat. McNamee made information before Alderman Humbert against J. Spangler, charging him with abusing a horse belonging to the deponent. He alleges that the defendant hired a horse and buggy from him on the thirteenth, and that he wilfully, maliciously and designedly drove the horse in a reckless manner, breaking the buggy and injuring the horse, all of which is contrary to the Act of Assembly in such cases made and provided. A warrant was issued.

Opera House.—The Japanese troupe continue to draw full houses, and notwithstanding the oppressive heat last night every seat was occupied. The matinee this afternoon, and the entertainment to-night, will conclude their engagement in this city, which we can safely say has been a profitable one to the managers, and we think has rendered entire satisfaction to the public. They go from here to Cleveland, where, doubtless they will meet with their usual success.

Fire Companies in Trouble.—We have understood that Chief Engineer Hare, of the Fire Department, has preferred charges against the Eagle and Duquesne Companies for taking their apparatus out of the city on the 4th instant, thereby violating an ordinance which prohibits the taking of any part of the apparatus outside the city limits. The Neptune, we are informed, is charged with selling tickets for a picnic, which is also a violation of an ordinance.

Body Found.—The body of a female child, apparently but a day or two old, was found near the Marine Railway at Temperanceville, yesterday. It was discovered floating in the water by some workmen. Coroner Clawson was summoned and held an inquest, and the verdict of the jury was, that it came to its death from causes unknown to them. The child had evidently been in the water several days, as decomposition had taken place.

Swindling Attorney.—William Leslie, who has been representing himself as the attorney for certain American heirs of English estates, has been arrested on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses from a Mrs Isabella Moore, of Columbus, Ohio. He was acting as the attorney of Mrs Moore, in prosecuting her claim to share in an estate in Wales, and by some means succeeded in obtaining control of some $18,000 of her property.

Billiards.—A match game of billiards, of one thousand points, for five hundred dollars a side, was played last night at the Brunswick Billiard Rooms, between William Pinkerton, of Chicago, and John Nelson, of this city. The game was well contested and the playing on both sides fair, the average being seven. Nelson won the game and the money by ninety-four points.

Personal.—We desire commending to our brethren of the press Colonel James Wilder and Mr. John Wilder, the gentlemanly and honorable business agents of the McGuire Imperial Japanese Troupe. They know their business thoroughly and are eminently worthy the confidence of the newspaporial fraternity.

Paid the Penalty.—A German named Klopfer, residing on East Lane, Allegheny City, was arrested yesterday in West Pittsburgh, charged with peddling without license. He was taken before Alderman Humbert, and after a hearing was fined $50 and costs. He paid the money and went his way, a "wiser if not a better man."

Abandoned.—Bridget Jones made information before Alderman Strain against her husband William Jones, charging him with having deserted and abandoned her and her child, leaving them to the tender mercies of the world for the last year. A warrant was issued for the arrest of William.

Judging from the unintelligible manuscript received last night from the Telegraph office in the press reports, we are half inclined to think that a Japanese has found his way there, and made the operating rooms a place for writing his programmes which are furnished us for news.

NEWS TELEGRAMS.

—The iron clad Miantonomah has arrived at Philadelphia, from her fifteen month's cruise in Europe. She took Captain Fox to Russia, in May, '65. She has steamed over 1,700 miles, and proved herself a first class sea going ship. The Emperor of Russia, Emperor of France, Kings of Portugal, Sweden and Prussia, and Prince of Wales have visited the Miantonomah, and the cabins are lined with curious and valuable presents from nearly all of the rulers in Europe. The iron clad and her consort, the Augusta, will be laid up at League Island and undergo examination for repairs. Great crowds will visit the ship during the present week.

—The President is in a quandary relative to reconstruction. He does not think the Southern commanders should remove the civil officers in the South. He has under consideration the propriety of calling the five district commanders to this city that they may confer with each other and with the Executive, relative to the execution of the reconstruction acts, and determine as near as may be, upon uniform rules of action and practice.

—The Russian Minister is advised that the Commissioner on the part of the Czar, to make a formal transfer of Walrussia to the United States, will be here in about ten days. —The Judiciary Committee have decided that they will not file the impeachment evidence with the Clerk of the House under the resolution of Saturday, requiring it to be submitted forthwith to the House. —It is rumored that the President will shortly assign General Sheridan to a new command, and place another officer in charge of the Fifth District, but as yet General Sheridan's successor has not been named. It is believed that General George H. Thomas will be appointed to succeed Sheridan.

Horrible Outrage.

We learn that last Tuesday, on or near the line dividing Richmond and Burke counties, just above McBean Station, an outrageous act was perpetrated by a brace of fiendish freedmen upon the persons of two ladies and one mulatto girl. It appears from the statement made to us, that the ladies were riding in a buggy, when the two demons incarnate halted them, went up to the vehicle, forcibly dragged them from their seats, and ravished them both. After committing this monstrous atrocity, the infamous scoundrels met a young colored girl, whom they subjected to the same revolting ordeal. We learn that the girl died the next day from the effect of the brutal violence visited upon her. Not satiated with the damnable record they had just made, they fired at a small boy whom they met on their road, fortunately without injuring him.

The alarm being given several gentlemen started in hot pursuit. The criminals, apprehensive, doubtless, of being followed up, and fearful of being overtaken if they remained longer together, separated. The party got on the track of one of them and chased him to Briar Creek Swamp, near the railroad bridge, (about three miles above this village,) when he darted into an interminable thicket, and soon disappeared. Having lost all traces of him, further pursuit was abandoned.—Waynesboro (Ga.) Times.

Poor Carlotta.

A Vienna letter says that the accounts received from Miramar, respecting the Empress Carlotta, are very sad. All hope of recovery seems to have vanished. The Morgenpost has a communication which says:

The mental alienation has now attained to such a pitch that the unhappy Princess cannot be left alone for an instant, and has several times attempted her life. Two recent attempts of this kind were fortunately prevented by the watchfulness of Doctor Sick, who has the august patient under his care. Nevertheless, the Empress is occasionally, for a few moments at a time, in full possession of her faculties. In one of these lucid intervals lately she said: "I do not desire to live any longer; death is preferable to such an existence;" then, after a short pause, she asked, "Where is my husband? Shall I never see him more? No, no, he is dead, and I am still left in the world." Scarcely a quarter of an hour passes that the Empress does not ask for news of the Emperor Maximilian. The physical condition of her majesty also inspires very serious alarm.

—A Bank in Quincy was recently victimized by purchasing a lot of bogus gold dust. The dust went to New York before the discovery of its worthless character was made known.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 24, 1867.

ONE of the most striking incidents of this age of startling events is the adoption by the Austrian Parliament of a declaration in favor of the political equality of religious faiths and the introduction of civil marriage. Even half a century ago such propositions, if any body had possessed sufficient temerity to present them, would have aroused a tempest of indignation. The change is due to two causes. First and mainly to the general liberalizing of ideas consequent upon the earnest and searching discussions which have marked the last twenty-five years, which have effaced many distinctions formerly insisted on as indispensable, and which have established the right of private judgment on a broad foundation, and so deeply as not easily to be shaken. These results are conspicuous just in proportion as liberty of the press and of assembly has prevailed in each particular country, but even where this liberty has not been recognized and enjoyed the new ideas have penetrated almost impalpably as an atmosphere. Secondly, to the altered condition of the Austrian empire, by reason of the military operations of last year, and the affiliation since of most of the Germanic States with Prussia. Austria, always a composite State, with a strongly preponderating Catholic element, which easily contrived to bear sway, remains composite, but with the Romish ingredient abridged, both absolutely and relatively. Formerly force was relied upon to produce the desired cohesion between the different portions of the empire. As force is no longer as practicable as it was, the recognition of equality is brought forward as a substitute for it; and if adopted in fact as well as in form will be found more certain and potential.

THE North American Review, in a powerful article, pictures the present condition of the New York Judiciary, and shows that the bench is as corrupt as the lobby around the Legislature at Albany. The conclusions reached are that the various courts of New York are composed, with but few exceptions, of the lowest class of party politicians, who are ignorant, as well as corrupt, and who have as their chief purpose, not the administration of legal and impartial justice, but the filling of their own pockets with money, offered as bribes or exacted in some roundabout and wicked way as fees. The lawyers and the Judges, in some of the courts, seem to have a distinct understanding, almost equivalent to a contract, for sharing in the spoils of outraged justice and swindled clients. Cases are mentioned, also, of open bribery. In one, a judge, during the recess of a criminal trial, went to lunch with the accused and his counsel, and on turning up their plates, a hundred dollar bill was found under the judge's. Soon after lunch, under the judicial advice, the evidence was pronounced insufficient, and an acquittal was directed. In another case, when a notorious criminal was let off, his check for five hundred dollars was deposited in bank by the judge the very next day. In another, a judge received ten thousand dollars for squashing a series of indictments for numerous frauds.

OUR BOOK TABLE.

STORIES AND SKETCHES. By our best authors. Boston: Lee & Shepard. Pittsburgh: For sale by Davis, Clarke & Co.

In this volume are collected fourteen papers by different writers of more or less fame, with no pretensions to congruousness in the themes or the manner of handling them; but to fill a vacant hour with interest if not with profit.

LITTLE BROTHER AND OTHER STORIES. By Fitz Hugh Ludlow. Boston: Lee & Shepard. Pittsburgh: For sale by Davis, Clarke & Co.

Much of the current literature provided for children and youth, and equally in Sabbath Schools as in secular works, has a deleterious effect, even when not intended. Light and ephemeral, addressed to the feelings rather than the understanding, developing the passions instead of the judgment, the consequences are decidedly pernicious. Let any thoughtful parent take pains to ascertain the real quality of the books his children read, and the mental habits induced thereby; how they turn away from solid reading, calculated to make them intelligent and discriminating, and crave that which excites their imaginations merely, and he will comprehend that the more books of such sorts they devour the less they will know, and the smaller will be their capacity for knowing.

These remarks apply no more to the volume under consideration than to all others of the same class.

A ROMANCE OF THE REPUBLIC. By L. Maria Child. Boston: Ticknor & Fields. Pittsburgh: For sale by Davis, Clarke & Co.

Mrs. Child has won fame in higher departments of literature than story writing. She is a thoroughly earnest woman, and her romances are all written with a definite and substantial object. She avails herself of the popular medium for reaching large classes from whom she could not otherwise obtain a hearing.

Her present volume is dedicated to the father and mother of Col. R. G. Shaw, "the equal and faithful friends of freedom and equal rights." Here is the key-note of what she has to say, and she says it in an admirable manner. With the exception of the little occasional fine descriptive writing, it is a story of very decided merit and interest. Indeed, it is more; it is exciting. The theme is scarcely new, but it is one that may be made the center of no end of dramatic story and play. The heroines are two beautiful sisters of Louisiana, highly educated and accomplished, who never knew that they are descended of a slave mother, until the death of their father and the insolvency of his estate, put them at the mercy of an owner. The plot is woven out of the deep and terrible mysteries of slavery, and though it reads like a romance, and is called so, is paralleled by many cases that the war brought to light. We cannot speak of the book at length without revealing its plot, and this we prefer not to do, for it is very ingenius, and we do not like to spoil the pleasure of its readers. We will rather ask our readers to take our word that it is a good story. Its incidents are dramatically managed, and it would have made a decided sensation, if it had appeared before the war.

HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN CIVIL WAR. By John William Draper, M. D., L.L.D., Professor of Chemistry and Physiology in New York, &c. In three volumes. Vol. I Containing the Causes of the War, and the Events Preparatory to it, up to the close of President Buchanan's Administration. New York, 1867: Harper & Brothers, Publishers. For sale by Henry Miner, 71 and 73 Fifth street, Pittsburgh. Pp. 567, 8 vo.

The late terrible and unprecedented war will furnish rich material for many a volume. Already valuable works, bearing on the late struggle, have been published. None, however, have appeared containing the same train of thought, and indeed of such intrinsic value, as this truly great work. Its greatness consists not only in a philosophical sense, but also in narrative and historical facts. It is richly freighted with matter that will be of immense service to the reader, in obtaining a correct knowledge of the causes which led to the war, traced with a masterly hand, from the earliest period of our history down to the opening of the war.

Dr. Draper advocates in the broadest sense that national events are influenced by physical causes, and that the laws of intellectual development are as uniform and inevitable as those of the material universe. He introduces illustrations of the most convincing character to prove his theory. He shows that the roots of the conflict are in the first instance traceable to the discordant tendencies of our original civilization; the South being first peopled by persons fond of ease and pleasure, while the colonists of the North were of a more austere cast, and devoted to the higher and sterner duties of life. With these diversities, the colonists being alike exposed to assaults, first from the Indians, then the French, followed by the tyranny of their mother country, the sentiments of union were fostered and in this feeling had its origin. But in the course of time, the effects of climate and social causes began to develop a spirit of antagonism and two sections, known as the North and South, or the free and the slave powers, were the result. The South soon began to show elements of a diverse character from the North, and then arose the conflict for supremacy, which finally culminated in the war. The encroachments of the South, and the bitter hostility of the North, growing stronger year by year, to slavery, added to the fierceness of the contest and finally aroused the North to determined resistance.

The novelty of the volume, though it is the first of three and complete in itself, as it has been well said by another, consists not so much in the exhibition of facts before unknown, as in the effective grouping of familiar events so as to form a grand historical unity. It abounds with graphic descriptions of men and things, the style of the author being terse and vigorous, and at the same time discriminating. Prof. Draper is, however, rather a positive philosopher, as he leaves no room for the introduction of new elements that might have modified or changed the whole—none for a Providence. The Professor is conservative, and yet his views may not be palatable even to that class of readers. The general drift of this volume may be more clearly understood by giving the author's points of the respective sections: I. Physical characteristics of North America; the topography and meteorology of the Republic. II. The character of the colonial and subsequent population. III. The tendency to antagonism impressed upon that population by climate and other causes. IV. The gradual development of two geographical parties, the North and the South. V. Their struggles for supremacy in the Union. VI. The rupture between them. The work is elegantly bound in Turkey morocco, and its mechanical execution is of the finest order, such as this great establishment sends out.

HARPER'S PICTORIAL HISTORY OF THE GREAT REBELLION IN THE UNITED STATES. For sale by Henry Miner, 71 and 73 Fifth street.

We have been favored with four numbers of this valuable publication, parts 17, 18, 19, 20. Not having seen the previous numbers, we are not prepared to give as intelligent an opinion of its merits as we would like to, and one that the work should receive. The numbers before us indicate its value, from the elegant manner in which it is illustrated, with battle scenes, army movements, portraits of distinguished officers, and valuable maps. This history has engrossed the labor of the authors for five years, and has been wrought from original sources. It is about the size of Harper's Weekly, each part containing 24 pages. Many of the illustrations are of the full size of the folio page. The entire work will comprise from thirty to thirty-five numbers, and will contain fully One Thousand Illustrations. The Illustrations, it is estimated, will cost One Hundred Thousand Dollars. Part 17 contains Pope's campaign in Virginia, and the invasion of Maryland—Antietam. Part 18, Burnside's Campaign—Fredericksburgh, and Naval and Coast Operations in 1863. Part 19, The War on the Mississippi, to March, 1863. Part 20, The War on the Mississippi, April and May, 1863. This work is valuable to those who were participants and to the millions of inhabitants in this great country living during those momentous times. Besides, unborn descendants will prize it more than even the living.

TICKNOR & FIELDS' SERIAL PUBLICATIONS.—The publication of "The North American Review," "Atlantic Magazine," "Our Young Folks," and "Every Saturday," by this well and widely known publishing establishment, has given them a place in almost every family circle in the great North. This firm shows a spirit of progress in these live times, that attracts attention of no ordinary kind, and is marvellous in the eyes of many.

The stately quarterly, The North American Review, always richly freighted with papers of the highest scholarly type, was never more so than may be found in the July issue (216th number,) just out. The articles of this number are as follows: 1. Origin of the Italian Language. 2. Serfdom and the Emancipation Laws in Russia. 3. Swedenborg's Ontology. 4. Longfellow's Translation of the Divine Comedy. 5. The Judiciary of New York. 6. The Labor Crisis. 7. On the Testimony of Language Respecting the Unity of the Human Races. Rousseau and the Sentimentalists. Critical Notices, etc. The mere mention of the names of the articles conveys an idea of their value. We may refer at another time to one or two of these papers, relating to questions now agitating the public mind.

At the time the Atlantic Magazine was projected, some ten years ago, the experiment was regarded as a hazardous one, because so many monthlies had previously failed. The initial numbers gave evidence of supplying a want in the literary world long needed, and from the very outset success was foreshadowed. Writers of character were secured, articles appeared with the ring of sharply defined views, and upon living issues, which eclipsed the lighter ones. The clear, open, bright text, substantial white paper, and unique appearance of the magazine, when first issued, has been maintained, even throughout the "shoddy" era. Now and then articles of the extreme Radical type, especially of the religious sort, give offense to the orthodox, yet withal the general character of this monthly is exceptional. The July number contains a rich bill of contents, namely, "Extracts from Hawthorne's Note Books," "At Padua," "Doctor Molke," "My Visit to Lybaris," "The Piano in the United States," "Religious Side of the Italian Question," etc.

The illustrated magazine for boys and girls, "Our Young Folks," during its existence of two and a half years, has obtained a large circulation. It is printed in elegant style, with illustrations of the most picturesque kind, and brim full of articles of the most racy sort. The corps of writers cannot be excelled, and contains names of the highest meed in the literary world. Many a grown-up person may receive instruction and profit by reading articles that we could name.

The weekly publication of "Every Saturday" supplies a class of choice reading, that is much preferable to the wishy-washy so called literary weeklies that abound. The reading matter is carefully selected from Foreign current Literature, embracing serial tales, short stories, essays, biographical and descriptive, poems, sketches of travel and adventure, literary intelligence, and popular papers on science. Just the kind of a publication to read on a short trip, or while away an hour at home pleasantly and profitably.

THE PICKWICK CLUB. By Charles Dickens. Boston: Ticknor & Fields. Pittsburgh: For sale by Davis, Clarke & Co.

This is the first volume of a new edition of Mr. Dickens's works by this Boston house. It is printed in larger type and on a larger page than their other edition, and is also admirably illustrated. The series will number thirteen or fourteen volumes, and will appear monthly.

This edition is revised by the author, and issued simultaneously here and in England.

TEN MONTHS IN BRAZIL. By John Codman. Boston: Lee & Shepard. Pittsburgh: For sale by W. A. Gildenfenny.

This is a well-told account of a trip to Brazil and a brief residence there. Though doubtless embodying such misjudgments as are common to all men on new ground, it will repay perusal by the information it contains.

THE CURIOSITY SHOP. By Charles Dickens. Boston: Ticknor & Fields. Pittsburgh: For sale by Davis, Clarke & Co.

This belongs to the former, popular illustrated edition of Mr. Dickens's writings.

HUNT'S MERCHANTS' MAGAZINE, for July. New York: William B. Dana.

LONDON SOCIETY. For July. New York: Hurd & Houghton.

DIXIE COOKERY; or how I managed my table for twelve years. A Practical Cook Book for Southern Housekeepers. Boston: Loring, Publisher.

Singular Episode of Married Life.

The New Albany (Ind.) Ledger relates, on what it claims to be unimpeachable authority, the following singular case, which occurred in Franklin township, Floyd county, Ind.:

The latest and most singular sensation that Franklin township has produced, was told us by two as responsible citizens as reside in the township. It seems that not many weeks ago a young couple, whose names we are requested to suppress, were married by the Justice of the Peace of Franklin township. Eight days after the marriage, at about midnight, the young wife left her bed, went out of doors, and remained but a short time. On entering the house she retired to bed again without speaking to her husband. Twice afterward, between her first getting up and daylight, the wife left her bed and went out as at first, remaining but a short time. In the morning her husband got up quite early and went to his work, some distance away, the wife making no complaint, but remaining in bed after he had left. About 10 o'clock in the forenoon some children belonging to another family were playing near the corn crib that stood upon the farm occupied by the young couple, when they heard the cries of an infant, apparently proceeding from the corn crib. They entered the crib, and after a little search found a newly born babe, wrapped up in a quilt, lying in one corner of the barn. The newly married wife was its mother, and it had been born while she was out the first time during the night. What is most singular about this affair, neither the husband nor his grandmother, who lives with him, suspected that there was anything of the kind in prospect. To give a pleasing end to the story, however, the husband admitted that he was the father of the child, but was at a loss to know why his wife determined to surprise him with an "eight day wonder."

Railroads in America.

Statistics recently collected and published inform us that there are 95,727 miles of railroad in the world, of which 36,896 miles are in the United States. This is undoubtedly an extraordinary development, if we compare the aggregate of our country with that of any single nation in Europe. Great Britain and Ireland have 13,286 miles; France, 8,982; Prussia, 5,794; Austria, 3,830; Italy, 3,213; Russia, 2,775. We are thus ahead of all the principal civilized nations. If we take the item of population as a means of judgment we find that we distance comparison in the matter of railroads. If we take geographical area the case is different. Europe is about the size of the United States, and it has 50,117 miles of railway, an excess of 13,221 over our aggregate. Great Britain throughout all her vast empire has only 20,000 miles of railway, being 16,896 below us, notwithstanding that her geographical area is double ours, and her capital corresponding thereto.

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE

Is prepared by the originator of the justly celebrated Coe's Cough Balsam. Mr. Coe has never prepared a medicinal article for public and general use but what has stood the strongest tests, and has always borne the palm of victory over every disease it has been certified to cure. Will you who are suffering from dyspepsia, indigestion, nausea, sick headache, cholera morbus, dysentery and general debility of the whole system, try one single bottle! We will never urge you again if we fail in this case. Our own knowledge of its merits, the united testimony of all who have ever tried it, the encomiums of hundreds of our own neighbors, your duty to yourself and the beneficial result, as certain as sunshine, all urgently, persistently urge you to try just one bottle. If what we say is not correct—if our statements concerning its wonderful virtues are not found to be true—if you do not say that the operation of the medicine is instantaneous and wonderful—we will renounce our profession as caterers to the public health, and retire from the field, admitting that we are incompetent to compound a medicinal preparation which would be entitled to your confidence.

GIVE NATURE A LIFT.

People expect too much of Nature. They trifle with their health and their constitutions, and they are surprised that they fall sick. The pressure of constant mental or bodily labor, upon the animal powers, is tremendous. Very few systems and constitutions can bear up against this pressure unassisted. Add to this the unhealthy influences which lurk unseen in the air we breathe, the water we drink, the lassitude produced at this season by the change from the rigor of winter to the warmth of spring, and it would seem to require almost superhuman vigor to keep in perfect health without reinforcing the physical energies. But how reinforce them? Certainly not with adulterated stimulants. There is no poison in the outer air, or in the atmosphere of furnace-heated rooms, or work-shops, or factories, so pernicious as those deadly-burning fluids. Why use them, when a vegetable tonic without alloy, are everywhere obtainable? Nothing has ever been offered to the feeble and debilitated so harmless in its nature, so powerful in its invigorating effects, as this celebrated STOMACHIC AND ALTERATIVE. In the army and the navy, in new settlements, and in crowded cities, by old and young, rich and poor, it is used as a PROTECTIVE and RESTORATIVE MEDICINE, with most gratifying results.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, enabling them to regain their lost tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidney of years standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of Asa Goodnue, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prescribed in leucorrhœa, gleet, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in piles and chronic inflammation or ulceration of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all gravelly affections, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocations; and instead of sickening, produces a bracing, healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle; six for $5.

Ask for POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND. For sale by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at DR. KEYSER'S Great Medicine Store, 140 Wood street. ap20

THE MEMBERSHIP AND CONGREGATION OF BROWN'S A. M. E. CHAPEL, through its Trustees and Pastor, Rev. J. W. DEVINE, appeal to all classes of Christians, in the name of our Sovereign Ruler, the God and Father of all, for help, to enable them to complete their church, now in course of erection, on the corner of Hemlock and Boyle streets, Allegheny. Favored by the kindness of a few white friends, and the untiring efforts of the membership, our little Church has been trying to erect another Temple to the honor of the Living God, ever since our building on East Commons was destroyed by the guilty hand of an incendiary.

We wish and pray for the success of all Christians, whether Presbyterians, Baptists, Episcopalians, or others. There are enough colored people in the two cities and its environs to fill churches specially devoted to the evangelical teachings of these denominations. Church Power is not alone our aim. We wish to build a church wherein we can worship God according to our consciences, and the light which He has given us.

Prof. S. A. NEALE, who is not of our faith, but is, nevertheless, an earnest worker in the spiritual Kingdom of the Master, will act as our Agent for a brief while, and we have invested him with letters which empower him to solicit subscriptions from all well-wishers.

We also respectfully announce that a Grand Celebration of the victories of Freedom in this county will come off at UNION PARK, in the western part of Allegheny, AUGUST 1st, 1867. All the Colored Military and Civic Societies will participate, and a Grand Tournament will be one of the features of the occasion. All the profits will be devoted to the payment of our church debt.

A FIRST CLASS

FARM FOR SALE!

The subscriber offers for sale the farm on which he resides, in Brooke county, W. Va., three miles east of Steubenville, on the Washington road, two miles from the Ohio river, and two miles from the Panhandle Railroad. The farm contains

320 ACRES

Of land of the first quality, 270 acres cleared and nearly all in grass. The remainder is well timbered and has coal in abundance and plenty of running water, and is all under fence. The buildings are a large

Two-Story Brick House,

A good TENANT HOUSE, TWO LARGE FRAME BARNS, and abundance of stable room and shelter, sufficient for 600 sheep, and other necessary outbuildings, all in good repair.

There are TWO APPLE ORCHARDS of choice fruit, 15 CHERRY TREES, of choice kinds, and plenty of other small fruits.

This is one of the most desirable farms in the county, taking everything into consideration, and as a grazing farm is unequalled.

It is convenient to Schools and Churches of various denominations, and in a good neighborhood. This land is all tillable, and lies well for division into two portions if desirable.

Messrs. Burke & Barnes, Pittsburgh, Pa.

GENTLEMEN—We ship you, to-day, by railroad, a safe of your make, for a few repairs. The safe went through the disastrous fire that occurred here on the 6th of March last, burning our store and warehouse, and we are glad to inform you that the papers taken out of the safe after the fire were not harmed in the least. We did not suppose any safe, especially so small a size, could possibly stand such a fire, and when we discovered the papers all safe and sound, we were agreeably disappointed. We will give you an order for a large size safe when we get into our new store. Truly yours,

The Pittsburgh Gazette

The Silver Palace Railway Excursion—Breakfast at Alliance—Names of the Excursionists, &c.

Behind an iron horse of majestic proportion, glittering in armor of polished metals, fuming and fretting as though a world's responsibility rested on its tough shoulders, there came gliding into the Union Depot at dawn yesterday morning such a royal train of cars as was never seen in America since rails were rolled. It might have readily been taken for a series of fairy palaces moving on wheels and joined together by links of wonderful strength, but the watchful in waiting knew that it was the last grand innovation made by the Central Transportation Company for the accommodation, ease, comfort, luxury and enjoyment of the night travelling world at large. It was the first trip of the Silver Palace Train.

On board the cars there were representatives of the leading press East and West, railway officials of the highest rank, scientific and mechanical gentlemen, and a fair sprinkling of ladies. The excursion, for such it was, had been arranged by the Transportation Company, and was in every respect a perfect and complete success. When the train reached our city some two hundred guests were aboard, slumbering soundly in the luxurious couches and bunks, and quietly a large delegation was taken aboard from Pittsburgh, and ere many moments the train moved off on its Western trip. At Alliance the excursionists were aroused from their sleep, and after ablutions had been performed and toilets arranged, the entire party alighted and were escorted to the Sourbeck Hotel, where a sumptuous breakfast awaited them. Two hundred and twenty-six persons partook of the meal, doing full justice to the viands spread before them. To speak in praise of the Sourbeck Hotel, is only to give expression to the sentiment of every traveller who has partaken of the hospitalities of the proprietor. The dining room is one of the finest, best appointed and managed in the country and is decidedly a feature on the Fort Wayne road.

After the meal had been finished the party again got aboard and were soon rolling onward towards Chicago, where they will spend a day in examing the sights of that wonderful western town, and then return to bear evidence of the matchless luxury of the Silver Palace Sleeping cars.

The following is as full a list of the excursionists as we could obtain:

Josiah King, Pittsburgh GAZETTE, and two daughters; C. D. Brigham, Pittsburgh Commercial, wife and daughter; Rev. Dr. Allison and daughter, Presbyterian Banner; Rev. Dr. Nesbitt, Pittsburgh Christian Advocate; Jas. C. Purdy, Pittsburgh Chronicle; Will. Schoyer, Pittsburgh Post; James Mills and sister, Pittsburgh Leader; A. W. Rook and lady, and D. O'Neill and lady, Dispatch; T. B. Davis and son, Pennsylvania Central Railroad Co.; T. Thompson and lady; W. W. Fulton, wife and daughter, associated Press, Philadelphia; J. Davis, W. C. Stevenson, J. W. Van Houghton and lady, car department, Pennsylvania Railroad Co., Philadelphia; W. T. Rich and lady, Philadelphia Press; Josiah Kisterback, Benj. H. THE CONDUCTOR.

Mr. Robert Scott, one of the best tried and most efficient of the clever railway conductors of the Fort Wayne road, had charge of the train from Pittsburgh out, and by his attention to his duties and courtesies to the large party in his charge, won new friends to his side. Under his care and caution all could confidently feel secure from accident.

The American Game of Billiards.

A sporting exchange has the following to say regarding the American Game of Billiards. The article is calculated to throw cold water on the aspirations of our young amateurs whose highest ambition is to excel in handling the cue and driving the balls. It says:

"A correspondent asks us which national game of billiards we think to be the best—the American, the French, or the English. Our answer is, that we do not think American billiards to be any game at all. The English practice is but little better, while the French mode of play, upon French-made tables, is the only one entitled to be called a game. The American table, in the first place, is too high for any swinging action of the arm and elbow, and in these faults the English table is as bad or worse. The English table also shares with the American table the folly of being pierced for six pockets, to render counting easy, and thus reducing the efforts of the player to succeed. The English game, however, is superior to the American in employing but three balls, and in having those balls, like those of the French, of a size that can carry the twist or "life" imparted to them by the cue through three or four circuits of the table."

The American players, on the other hand, use balls of such gross size that the life of their execution is soon absorbed in their own dead weight, and thus, after making perhaps two circuits of the table, they are left capable only of the plainest laws of motion. To make up for this disability, an additional ball has been put upon the American table, and that has resulted in a puerile and old dish practice which enables experts like McDevitt, Dion and Foster, to run two and three, and even four hundred, whenever they can get a good opportunity to fumble the balls together. This is mere baby play, and utterly unworthy the name of billiards; and as long as it is maintained as a part of our game, and four big balls are kept upon the table, so long will the billiard players of America be behind the players of England and France. Heaven rewards efforts to overcome difficulties by proficiency; and everyone knows that a man cannot learn to jump a five-barred gate by hopping over a camp stool.

The French table, of a size and hight that gives perfect freedom to the arm, with three medium-sized balls, no pockets, and a method that scores one point at a time, is the only game worthy of a people advanced in the billiard art; on the other hand a game that is played with four big balls, six pockets, which (even if the pockets do not contribute to the score) will enable the player to frequently run from two to four hundred, merely by tipping them together is simply beneath contempt. The best proof the reader can have of this is, to go and see a so-called great American game played, and if he does not come away with the conviction that a great match of billiards is the most stupid game played, we will cheerfully give up the argument.

"Pilgrim's Progress."

The Pilgrim and Roby families are joint occupants of a house at the corner of Union avenue and North alley, Allegheny. The head of the Pilgrim family is in the country, and Mary, his wife, determined to take a benefit during his absence. She provided some liquor Monday evening and invited William Roby to drink it. He accepted, and the couple drank both long and deep. At an unseasonable hour of the night they became uproarious, and night policemen McChesney and Sprague were attracted to the spot when the worthy pair were in the very height of their revels. They attempted to make a show of resistance, but signally failed in their efforts, and were conveyed to the tombs, where they remained until yesterday morning. The Mayor imposed a fine of ten dollars and costs upon each, upon the payment of which they were released. This is Roby's "Pilgrim's Progress."

Not the Man.

Some days since, Mayor Booth, of Brooklyn, New York, received a letter from Justice Storm, of Paradise Valley, Monroe county, Pa., stating that the body of a man, supposed to be murdered, had been found in the woods in that vicinity, and from a memorandum book picked up, the deceased was believed to be Charles W. Blossom, of Brooklyn, New York. It has since transpired that Mr. Blossom, who is a merchant, doing business in New York, and residing in that city, went to Paradise Valley in June, for the purpose of trout fishing, and there lost his memorandum book. He returned home safe, however. The residents of the neighborhood very naturally associated the name in the memorandum book with the deceased.

Crystal Palace.

Elizabeth Cady keeps the Crystal Palace, No. 425 Penn street, and it is alleged by Rebecca Davis, a neighbor, that the "Palace" is a "ratty" place; that liquor is sold without regard to age, color, sex or time, and that, on Sunday in particular, the whole neighborhood is annoyed by their drunken brawls. Rebecca, therefore, appeared before Alderman Strain and made two informations against Elizabeth, charging her with selling liquor on Sunday, and for surety of the peace. A warrant was issued and placed in the constable's hands, and Elizabeth will be brought to time.

Presentation.—At a regular meeting of Boyden Lodge, No. 217, I. O. G. T., held Monday evening, a beautiful clock was presented to the Lodge by Mr. Sims. The presentation speech was made by Mr. H. D. McGaw, and was responded to in behalf of the Lodge by Mr. M. M. Bratt.

"Show Your Tickets."

Henry Baker, hailing from up the Monongahela, was in the city on Monday and, as is the custom of some folks, had taken several drinks preparatory to leaving for home. He purchased a ticket at the Connelsville Railroad depot, and going out on the platform was about to step into a car when he was saluted with the demand "show your ticket sir!" Henry was indignant at the interruption, and, forgetting that the person who made the demand was employed by the company for that purpose, gave vent to his feelings in abusive language. He was prevented from getting into the car, and as his demonstrations were of a threatening character, officer Wallbank, who was present, interfered. He then showed his ticket and went into the car. In a moment he turned around and stepping out on the platform, struck the officer a blow on the cheek. Instead of turning the "other cheek," the officer arrested Henry and conveyed him to the lock-up. This morning he had a hearing before the Mayor, and was required to pay a fine of ten dollars and costs. Henry will hereafter comply with the requirements of the railroad company and show his ticket when politely requested to do so, and we think will find it more pleasant if not agreeable to his tastes. Verily "experience is a dear school."

Committed.—William Flinn made information before Alderman McMasters, against Eliza Bradly of the Second Ward, Lawrenceville, for surety of the peace. The prosecutor alleges that Eliza threatened to give him a bodily beating and also to poison himself and family. Eliza, it is alleged, has caused considerable discord in the domestic relations of some of the families in the neighborhood in which she resides. She was committed to jail for trial in default of five hundred dollars bail.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ SECOND BANKERS' AND MERCHANTS' GRAND PRESENTATION ENTERTAINMENT, will most positively take place at EVINS HALL, on the evening of July 24th, 1867. The largest, greatest and most successful enterprise ever inaugurated in the world. A Present with every ticket.

The First Grand Concert was given on July 4th. It was a grand success. The mammoth Hall was filled with the elite of the city. The audience appointed a committee of nine of the leading Bankers and Merchants, to examine the tickets and the corresponding numbers to the tickets and the Register Books, to see that all is correct before making the grand distribution of prizes at the last Concert, on the 24th of July.

A gift with every ticket. The Grand Distribution of presents will be conducted on the Mutual Benefit principle. A pro-rata Distribution of Profits to Ticket holders. Capital, $1,287,148. Tickets, $1 each. A present with every ticket.

A reference to the number of presents and the general plan of distribution, given below, will convince the most skeptical of the great advantages which will accrue to all who participate in the enterprise; and the commercial and financial standing of the company, and the managers and bankers thereof, will, they hope, prove a sufficient guarantee of the fairness and impartiality with which everything in connection with it will be conducted, and that the interests of ticket holders will be most scrupulously watched over and guarded. In fact it is the desire of the managers to conduct every transaction for the mutual benefit of whoever shall purchase a ticket, and scrupulously to avoid any and everything which could in the slightest degree diminish the profits which are likely to accrue to all who invest. List of Presents: Cash—One cash present at $75,000; one cash present at $35,000; two cash presents at $10,000; three cash presents at $5,000; four cash presents at $3,000; five cash presents at $1,000; eight cash presents at $1,000; fourteen cash presents at $500; twenty cash presents at $300; twenty-five cash presents at $200; forty cash presents at $100; seventy-five cash presents at $25; one hundred and forty cash presents at $20; one hundred and fifty cash present at $10; two hundred and seventy five cash presents at $[illegible]; [illegible] cash presents, amounting to $250,000. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken, and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, July 23, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as received by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 137⅞; Eighty-one bonds, 110¾; Five Twenties, 1862, 111⅜; Five Twenties, 1864 108¾; Five Twenties, 1865, 109⅛; Consols, 108⅝; Seven Thirties, 108⅛@107⅞; Ten Forties, 102⅜. Stocks—Erie Railroad, 72⅞; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 93½; Chicago and Rock Island, 102¾; Chicago and Northwestern, 47½; Chicago and Northwestern preferred 72¼; Fort Wayne Railroad, 103¾; Michigan Southern Railroad, 82¼; New York Central, 105¾; Reading, 106¾; Western Union Telegraph Company, 48¾. Mining shares—Corydon, 1,65, Quartz Hill, 2,15; Gregory, 6,65; Smith & Paramalee, 5,80.

Gold is firm at 137¾—market very steady. Besides the regular demand for import duties or shipment to Europe, there is no desire to speculate for a rise, and until it is positively ascertained what the cotton crop is likely to be, the movements in specie will be towards lower rates. A further depressing influence would be exercised should the Treasury Department decide to pay off the compounds falling due in August, and thus create a scarcity of greenbacks and contract the circulation of the country considerably. Government bonds were firm to-day with but slight changes. The price of securities will much depend on the operations of the United States Treasury, and the course adopted by New York banks. The abolishment of paying interest to banks and bankers there on their daily balances will reduce the enormous amounts of money now seeking employment in call loans, and reduce values more than 10 per cent., especially in Railroad stocks and bonds. The share market is higher, and everybody seems to feel that it is high time to bring up the price of stocks, in order to be enabled to get out even on last fall's purchases. Mining shares dull and unchanged.

—The Boston Post says that of the forty-two national banks in Boston, five were originally organized under the general banking law, viz: The Safety Fund, Revere, Continental, Mount Vernon, and Bank of the Republic. Of these institutions one became National in 1863, three in 1864, and one in 1865. On entering into the present arrangement, these five had on deposit with the State Auditor public stocks amounting to $2,835,000, as security for their outstanding State circulation at that time, which was a little less than two millions ($1,816,774). These five banks have now on deposit with the State Auditor public stocks amounting to about $50,000, as security for something less than $5,000 State circulation still outstanding. The remaining thirty-seven banks of the city were chartered institutions, and on changing from State to National, gave bonds for the redemption of their State circulation, which were filed with the State Treasurer—it being optional with them either to adopt this course, or to deposit securities with the State Auditor. Their State circulation has dwindled down in about the same proportion as that of the five first mentioned, and as most of the banks now show a weekly reduction of but a few dollars in the old State circulation, it is believed that most of that now is reported as 'outstanding' will never be returned."

—There are frequent rumors at New York of the movement of currency, the sale of gold, etc., circulated by interested stock operators with the view of influencing the money market and stock prices. As yet, however, both there and here, money rules easy. At present the banks have more funds than they can employ at the market rates, and appear disposed to carry idle balances rather than reduce their loans. The demand from the Stock Exchange is fairly active, the rates being 5 per cent. on stocks and 4 per cent. on discounts. Discounts are still dull. Prime paper is current 6@7 per cent.; lower grades are negotiated with difficulty, and at irregular rates.—Phila. Ledger.

—The Treasury Department has again mystified the holders of Seven Thirties, by issuing a new rule in relation to the conversion of these securities. Heretofore the Government has allowed interest on the Seven Thirties, and charged interest from July 1, at 6 per cent. in currency up to the date of conversion—giving those who choose to convert the advantage in the calculation of the interest. On Wednesday last the Sub Treasurer issued an order discounting the above mode of conversion. He proposes now to allow interest on the Seven Thirties to July 1, giving in exchange Five Twenties of 1867 at par. Some time ago the department paid the express charges on all Seven Thirties sent for conversion in order to hurry up the process, but such charges must now be paid by the party sending on the bonds. Jay Cooke & Co.'s circular says "it is uncertain how long this (new) arrangement will continue."—Chicago Tribune.

—The money market exhibited no new feature of special importance on Saturday. The demand for loans was not very heavy, but the offerings were fully up to the supply of capital, and the market was upon the whole stringent. Currency balances are now so low that there is not much room for a further decrease, but the movements are rather against the city. Exchanges are working in favor of the west, but they are not yet in that condition which justifies bankers in drawing currency from the east. The tendency, however, is very decidedly in that direction, and in the course of the next four weeks a steady westward flow of currency may be expected. As yet there have been no important sales of new wheat, but letters from the country indicate that farmers are about ready to commence shipping. When this crop comes forward it will make exchange, as it will also furnish business to commission merchants and railroads. Rates of interest range from 8@12 per cent. for good paper—8@10 the figures between bankers and depositors.—Cin. Gazette.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, July 23, 1867.

The general markets are devoid of any new characteristics worthy of special notice. There is but little doing except in a regular way, the demand for everything almost being restricted mainly to supplying immediate wants, and prices have undergone no material change.

GRAIN—We can report small arrivals of new Wheat, but, as yet, the sales have been meagre, and there are no established quotations. Oats firm and in light supply but unchanged. Sale of 200 bush, on track, at 87c, and 200 at 86c Prime Yellow Corn is quoted at 96c@$1, and but little in this market. Sale of 1 car Rye at $1,32. Nothing doing in Barley.

FLOUR—Is quiet but steady, with regular sales at former quotations—$11,50@12 for Spring Wheat; $13@13,50 for Winter Wheat, and $16@17 for fancy brands. One of our leading houses expect an arrival of new Ohio Winter Wheat Flour to-morrow. Rye Flour is quoted at $8,50.

PROVISIONS—Bacon continues firm, and prices are still tending upward. We now quote at 12½@13c for Shoulders; 14½@15½c for Ribbed and Clear Sides, and 21@22c for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard, 13c; Dried Beef, 24@25c, and Mess Pork, $24@24 50.

POTATOES—The supply of old crop is about exhausted, and new crop are scarce and firm with regular sales at $4 25@4,50 per bbl.

GREEN APPLES—Scarce, firm and higher. Sales at $5,00 to $7,00 per barrel, according to quality.

CHEESE—Is dull but unchanged at 13@16, as to quality.

BUTTER—Is dull, but with light arrivals and a limited supply, prime fresh Butter still commands 15@17c.

EGGS—Scarce and higher, and fresh packed sold without much difficulty to-day at 24c.

OIL—Lard oil is firm but unchanged at 85 cts for No. 2, and $1,07 for No. 1.

DRIED FRUIT—The season is about over, and it is more than likely that those who are so unfortunate as to have stocks on hand, will have to hold over until next winter.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, July 23, 1867.

CRUDE—The market was quite active and considerably excited to-day, and with a much stronger feeling than on Saturday or Monday brought about favorable intelligence from New York, the transactions, in the aggregate, were large, reaching 33,000 barrels, and while prices have undergone but little change, as yet, the tendency is again upward. Spot oil sold at 13c, which is an advance, compared with yesterday, and "first water" sold readily at 11½c, which, also, is an advance. ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, July 23, 1867.

CATTLE.

There was again a liberal supply of cattle on sale this week, the whole number being estimated at between nine hundred and one thousand head, and with only a moderate demand, the market was a dull one, dragging considerably towards the close, though there were but few left over unsold. Compared with last week, prices ruled a fraction lower, and particularly was this the case in regard to common and inferior cattle. Good retailing cattle sold relatively better than any other kind, but even this grade of stock ruled lower—some few small sales at 8¼@8½c, but, so far as we could learn, there were but very few sales above 8 cents. Inferior and common cattle sold at from 4½ to 6½c, and stock cattle were reported unusually dull this week. There were several car loads in from Chicago; among others, Hazlewood & Co. had five, and Marks & Traurman three car loads; but the great proportion of the cattle on sale were from Ohio.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The market for Sheep was exceedingly dull, and the supply being largely in excess of the demand, prices have still further declined. We now quote at 4@5c for fair to prime fat mutton Sheep—possibly a few may have been sold at 5½@5¾. Lambs, also, plenty and dull but unchanged—ranging from $2 to $3,50 per head—extra at $3 20@4.

HOGS

Continues quiet and unchanged, the demand being light and exclusively of a retail character. We continue to quote at 7@7½c, gross, for fair to prime heavy averages.

REPORTED SALES OF CATTLE.

Greenwald & Kahn retailed 40 head at 5to 8¼. L. Rothchilds 33 head at 5 to 7½; shipped 2 car loads to Baltimore. Haas & Kraus, 76 head at 6¾ to 8¼. Marks & Traurman, 89 head, including 50 head from Chicago, sold at from 6¼ to 8½—15 left over. Hazlewood & Co. had 5 car loads of Chicago cattle; sold 2 car loads at 7¼ to 8, and shipped three car loads to Central Yards. Emerick & Co. sold Rothchilds & Byer 18 bulls at 4½; and retailed 18 head mixed cattle at 5¼ to 7½. Glass & Lefferty sold 21 head inferior at 4½; 25 head common stock at 5¼; 17 head fairish at 6¼ to 6½; and 10 do at 6½ to 6¾. J. G. Kent sold 10 head bulls at $32 50 per head. Keller sold Verner 20 head common cows and heifers at 6,10. J. Shamberg retailed 16 head at 5¼ to 7½. Rothchilds & Eyers, 50 head at 6 to 7½. P. Hartman, 28 head at 5 to 7½. Doud sold L. Rothchilds 20 head, weighing 19,010, at 7. M. Verner retailed 37 head at 5 to 7½. Hart & Wilson sold 24 head of mixed Washington county, (Penna.,) cattle at 6 to 8¼. Katz & Bro., 24 head at 4½ to 7. Myers & Needy, 95 head at 5¼ to 8. Briston sold 14 head for Marks & Traurman, and John Kerwin assisted Getchel in selling 15 head of Ohio cattle.

Cincinnati Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, July 23.—Flour dull and prices lower; extra $9@9,50; family 9,75@10,50. Wheat in better demand; sales of No. 1 red at $1,95@1,98; there was some shipping demand at the close. Corn dull and prices nominal. Oats dull at 82c for No. 1 in bulk. Rye unsettled and No. 1 offered at $1,25 at the close without buyers. Cotton unsettled; Middling nominally at 26c and holders are not offering. Whisky steady at $2 30 in bond. Mess Pork active at $24,50@25,00 holders are generally not offering; Bulk meats excited and higher. Shoulders closed at 12c and Sides 14c; holders are asking a quarter higher for both. Bacon advanced to 13c for shoulders; 1c for sides and 16c for clear sides and holders are still asking higher rates and but little of market. Lard dull and unchanged at 12½c for prime. Hams unchanged; common 18c and sugar cured 20½@21¾. Butter and Cheese unchanged. Sugar firm. Coffee steady. Gold 139 buying. Money easy. The weather is very favorable for the crops, and it is now hot enough for corn.

RIVER NEWS.

The Great Republic left St. Louis for New Orleans on Saturday last. One of her clerks, Captain C. A. Dravo, is here on a visit to his family—he has been absent since last March.

The people of La Crosse are becoming very much excited on the subject of the proposed removal of the ship yards and repair shops of the Northwestern Union Line, from that city to Dubuque. The Dubuque people offer large inducements to the line to make the change.

A passenger named Love, en route for Cuba, was robbed of $300 on the Quickstep the other day, while lying in port at Evansville.

On board the Legal Tender, on her way up the river, two men were engaged in a friendly game of poker, and one of them being short of ready money, asked an unsophisticated youth, who was looking on, for a slight loan till he had time to go to the office and draw his money. The unsuspecting youth handed out $275, all of which was lost by the time the boat reached Evansville, when the players quickly stepped ashore and disappeared.

The Dubuque Herald says the new sternwheel steamer Dexter, built there by H. Hewitt, for Ben Campbell of Galena, made a trial trip with a number of notable river men aboard, and proved a success. She is guaged for 225 pounds of steam, and made the run from Eagle Point, four miles, in fifteen minutes, with 80 pounds. Her owners intend to run her in the up river trade when the fall business opens.

Work is about to be commenced on the Rock Island rapids improvements. The Davenport Gazette says that Messrs. Case & Co., the contractors, are getting everything in readiness to prosecute the removal of the rocks from the channel of the river. They are building at Le Claire a floating hotel, with accommodations for fifty men.

The Bridge Committee have accepted the plans for building a bridge across the Mississippi at St. Louis, and awarded the contract to Capt. Jas. B. Eads, who will commence the work immediately. The structure will cost five millions of dollars, and is to be finished in three years.

A wild excitement was produced on the Morning Star Thursday night, while lying at Evansville wharf, by a man becoming frightened in his sleep and rushing out through the cabin, yelling like a mad man. He was woke by hitting his head against a stancheon, and was sent back to bed.

The New York Herald, of Friday, says the practice of racing, which for several weeks has been in operation between the rival steamboats on the Hudson, has met with the unqualified condemnation of the press, by giving timely warning to travelers what they may expect in the event of an explosion, collision, or any of the disasters which frequently result from such affairs. The owner of the Connecticut, one of the rival boats, publishes a card in which he denies that his craft has been put to any extraordinary speed, and wishes the public to distinctly understand that he will not allow his boat to race with his competitors while engaged in transporting passengers or freight. Nevertheless, he believes the Connecticut to be the fastest boat running to Albany, and if the owners of her rival, the Drew, desire to test the relative speed of the two boats he offers to run the Connecticut from New York to New Baltimore and return, without passengers or freight, and stake five thousand dollars on the result. This seems like business.

The Louisville Democrat, of Saturday, has the following: Now is the time for our merchants, manufacturers and business men to begin to shake the dust out of their eyes and begin to look around. The crops will be great and good, and, by the time they are gathered and sent into the market, then look out for business. Now, our merchants, and every body generally, should go to work and make Louisville a lively place this fall. Don't wait until Cincinnati gets the trade and business, and then set down and growl like a bear with a sore head. You've got the chance if you'll take advantage of it. Come, throw off your coats! roll up your sleeves! Go to work, and let Cincinnati and every other city see that you are not dead nor asleep. Go in!

The Memphis Avalanche, of Friday, has the following: Our esteemed friend, Captain Ike Paist, of the Diamond Express line, gave us a late call last night, to inform us that injurious reports of cholera were in circulation relative to Memphis. We wish our friend of the Cairo Democrat to contradict the report. There is sickness here, as there is everywhere at this season, but cholera is not at all prevalent.

An army of workingmen are engaged in blasting rock, raising derricks, building railroads, &c., on the Kentucky side of the falls, preparatory to the building of the great bridge over the falls of the Ohio.

The St. Louis Democrat of Monday, says: A report is going the rounds that the R. E. Lee cleared over $90,000 since she commenced running. Before you believe it, ask her Captain, and if he confirms the report solicit a look at his ledger. She may be like a fine boat we know of, neither captain, clerk nor owner of which could tell, not could the books, at the the end of twelve months running, whether she had cleared or lost a dollar or a hundred thousand. That is the way steamboat stock is frequently managed on the Western rivers.

Capt. Davidson has gone to St. Paul without having definitely settled the question of the removal of the headquarters of the Northwestern Union Packet Company to Dubuque. He wants to know if the Dubuquers will contribute toward the expense of removal. The Captain has also failed in his endeavors to induce the Northern Line Packet Company to cease running their boats above Dubuque.

MEDICAL.

CONSUMPTION!

It would take a man a lifetime to read the treatises that have been written upon this important subject, and if a sick man were to attempt it he would make himself worse by the reading, and die before he got half through. The symptoms of the disease are, hacking cough, expectoration of matter or pus, pain in one or both lungs, chilliness, burning in the palms of the hands and soles of the feet, exhausting day or night sweats, hectic fever, wasting of flesh or marasmus, sometimes expectoration of blood. These are the usual outward symptoms, apparent not only to the observing physician, but to the patient's friends. There are, however, more important symptoms than these, which are only made manifest by auscultation and percussion, terms which mean, in a medical sense, thumping and listening, and they are employed outwardly in order to ascertain what is going on inside of the cavity of the chest. The signs or symptoms elicited in this way are almost surely demonstrate the true and exact condition of the respiratory organs. A perfect auscultator can not fail in ascertaining whether the Lungs are acting naturally or not. Hence it is the best method of examining the lungs. Their actual condition once discovered, the appropriate treatment is more rapidly arrived at, and every diseased part more completely under the influence of appropriate remedies. We have long been of the opinion that consumption or decay, or wasting of the bodily strength, was dependent on a depraved state of the blood, which carries, in its course, tuberculous matter, and deposits it in the lungs, or elsewhere in the body, just as calculi or stone is deposited in the bladder, a small particle of which attracts other particles, until it becomes of such offense to the natural functions as to bring on inflammatory action, which action, if it could, would carry it out of the system, and which could have been easily done in the beginning of such disease. Dr. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP is a complete and perfect cure in the forming stage of lung disease. It acts on the very principle we have stated above, by enabling the securing or carrying off organs to do a double share of work. Waste and repair are easily comprehended. If the worn out material be carried off, and renewing material of a proper character, the must be health and ease, the contrary of sickness and disease. In many cases of consumption which have become settled, Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup fails to cure, although it will do good in nearly all. He prepares a medicine called LUNG CURE or PULMONARY RESTORATIVE, which is a great tonic, and strengthens and restores the parts to be renewed, while it dissolves and carries out from the body those particles of worn out or extraneous matter, which only tend to clog or destroy it, by hindering the renewing material being deposited in proper place.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, RESULTING FROM PLEURISY, CURED.

Statement of George Ford, carpenter, of No. 18 Sampson street, Allegheny City:

I took a violent attack of pleurisy, in May, 1866, which left me with a cough lasting all summer, wearing away my strength and gradually undermining my health. During this attack pleurisy I had several physicians of the highest reputation in the city. After I had partially recovered from the pleurisy, I was advised to go into the country, which I did, and when there a called in a doctor, who told me my left lung was affected, and that if something were not done soon I would die of CONSUMPTION. I lingered on from this time until about the middle of June, my cough and lung disease gradually growing worse, and I weaker every day, and almost despairing of ever getting well. In this state of despondency, and knowing the general belief of the incurability of Consumption, an having heard of cures made by Dr. KEYSER, and seeing his advertisement in the newspapers, I was induced in October last to call on the Doctor at his office, 120 Penn street, and had him examine my lungs with his "LUNG SOUND." He told me the upper lobe of my left lung was very much diseased. Yet he thought with great care and the perseverance in the use of his medicine, I would get well. At the time I called on Dr. Keyser my pulse was over one hundred and thirty beats in a minute, and I was generally prostrated, and had to cough night and day. I commenced the Doctor's treatment in October, with a feeble, broken constitution, and continued it faithfully until the present time. The Doctor's medicines helped me from the very start, and I could gradually feel myself getting stronger, and my cough and expectoration lessening. I have gained greatly in flesh, and consider myself well; all the rattling of my lung has ceased, and my general health is in every way good. All my relatives and friends know of the advanced stage of my disease and my extraordinary recovery. One of the medicines given me by Dr. Keyser was a medicine called LUNG CURE, which I took in connection with the other treatment.

GEORGE FORD

PITTSBURGH, March 30, 1867.

ANOTHER CURE OF CONSUMPTION.

STATEMENT OF JOHN G. WIGHAM, OF TURTLE CREEK, ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

I was discharged from the United States army January, 1866, on account of a wound in the head, from a shell, and a disease which the army physicians pronounced CONSUMPTION. I had a terrible cough and fell away in strength and flesh and was unable to do anything. Shortly after my return from the army, I made application to a physician of my neighborhood and, afterwards, to another in Pittsburgh of high reputation, whose remedies I used faithfully for five months, without any benefit whatever, but rather grew worse, and wasted in flesh and strength every day. In August, 1866, my mother took me to DOCTOR KEYSER, of 120 Penn street, whose skill in such cases like mine had been highly spoken of and put myself under his treatment. The Doctor examined my lungs very carefully with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that my left lung was badly diseased at the upper part, but if I was careful he thought he could cure me by following his directions closely, which I did from that day to this. I gradually improved under Dr. Keyser's medicines from the first week I commenced to take them, and my general health has improved, and my chest, where it was sunken away, and where it pained me, has become full and strong and free from pain. I can now do a full day's work, and take great pleasure in giving my testimony in favor of Dr. Keyser's treatment and medicines.

JOHN G. WIGHAM,
Turtle Creek.

PITTSBURGH, April 11th, 1867.

A case of five years' standing cured by DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP:

DR. KEYSER:—My wife has been afflicted with a cough and difficulty of breathing for five or six years, which, for several years back, had gradually increased in violence. The complaint has been hereditary, and she had been treated by several physicians without any relief. In this state of her case I procured some of your PECTORAL COUGH SYRUP. I bought the first time a fifty cent bottle, which relieved her very much; I then called and got a dollar bottle, which cured her entirely, and she has now no trace of the former disease, except weakness. I would also state that I used the medicine my self to a cold and cough. The medicine cured me by taking one dose. I express my entire satisfaction with the medicine, and you are at liberty to publish this if you desire to do so.

WM. WILSON,
Alderman, Fifth Ward.

Our son, JAMES PAINTER, some three years of age was afflicted with consumption of the lungs, for which he was discharged from the army. He was examined by four army physicians, who all agreed that he must die with the disease. We brought him to Dr. KEYSER, 140 Wood street, (now 120 Penn street,) who, after sounding his lungs, commenced to treat him, and cured him sound and well. He is now well and has been so for the past three years. Others afflicted in like manner can likewise be cured.

JAMES PAINTER.
